

ABSTRACT

A method for receiving and distributing content-choice information includes collecting subscriber content-choice data from a plurality of subscriber content-choice databases and storing the subscriber content-choice data in a clearinghouse database.

5 The stored subscriber content-choice data may be selected and provided to a requesting party. A system for receiving and distributing content-choice information comprises a content-choice information clearinghouse and a plurality of subscriber content-choice databases.

10

36968-267872
WINLIB01:923267.1